"Wy We Ain't COLD!"

When you are crouching by the fire,
And shivering despite its heat;
When on the window panes resounds
The pattering of snow and sleet,
Your thoughts sometimes speed back
To days
When in the cold you were content,
When you would almost pray for snow,
And didn't care what frost-bite meant.

With ears wrapped in a woolen scarf
And cheeks a vivid purple-red, You'd plunge with whoops into the snow
And drag your sled.

And people as the hours passed by Would step out on the porch and scold
For fear you'd freeze, and you would shout—
"Come in? What fer? W'y we ain't COLD!"

But that's been many years ago;
Your blood and hair have both grown
thin;
And mention of the snow and ice
Makes gooseflesh on your tender
skin.

And as you shiver, how you wish
That just as in those days of old,
When blood was young and warm and
red,
And life was one bright blaze of gold
You wouldn't shiver, but could shout
"Come in? What fer? W'y we ain't
COLD!"

But that's been many years ago;
Your blood and hair have both grown
thin;
And mention of the snow and ice
Makes gooseflesh on your tender
skin.

And as you shiver, how you wish
That just as in those days of old,
When blood was young and warm and
red,
And life was one bright blaze of gold
You wouldn't shiver, but could shout
"Come in? What fer? W'y we ain't
COLD!"

It is my joy in life to find
At every turning of the road
The strong arms of a comrade kind
To help me onward with my load;
And since I have no gold to give,
And love alone must make amends,
My only prayer is, while I live,
God make me worthy of my friends.

LITTLE KNOWN PORTRAITS OF WELL KNOWN MEN.

EDWARD J. KERNAN
Vice President
Windsor Business Men's Association.

This photograph was taken on January 8th, while Mr. Kernan was on his annual calendar distribution jaunt for the insurance and real estate agency he represents. The frenzied expression of the subject is due to the necessity for dodging the immense lumps of ice and snow thoughtfully thrown from the street car tracks to the middle of the road by efficiently directed representatives of The Connecticut Company.

The unusual speed was put on in order to catch up with a competitor who had started his calendar distribution on January 1st. The cigar being held f'O tightly is accounted for by the fact that it was a P. A. C. made in Poquonock (where Mr. Kernan resides) and therefore too good a cigar even at such a critical time.

This picture best represents our subject, however, because it shows a hustler, and that is what Mr. Kernan is.

The north wind doth blow
And we shall have snow,
And what will the trolley do then
Poor thing?

It will stand in the storm
Where the crew can keep warm,
And patiently wait for the Spring
Poor thing?

At the meeting of the Directors of the Emergency Aid Association, January 11th, the resignation of Miss A. A Lester as visiting nurse was presented and accepted. It was voted that "the thanks of the Directors be extended to Miss Lester for the faithful and whole-hearted manner in which she has performed her duties as visiting nurse." Miss Lester will continue to account for the same kind of work she has been doing for the past two years under the auspices of the Emergency Aid Association.

The Emergency Supplies are kept at the home of Mr. Fred Marks, next to the store of Evans and Marks on Broad Street. Mrs. Georgia E. Kennedy has been appointed custodian of these supplies, and any one desiring the use of them may communicate with her at Evans and Marks or at her home.

A LETTER OF INTEREST FROM A FRIEND OF THOMAS MOTT OSBORNE, FORMER WARDEN OF SING SING PRISON.

The Editor of "The Town Crier", Windsor, Conn.

Dear Sir:

Wish you allow me the pleasure of sending you a few lines regarding the Honorable Thomas Mott Osborne, as I written the kind note which I received at your hands in Windsor, when I had the pleasure of addressing The Windsor Business Men's Association, Windsor, October 20th, 1916. I take it that some of my hearers that evening would be interested in knowing more about Mr. Osborne, on account of the prominent position that he occupies in the community today, and also on account of his having been indicated as the best man at White Plains by the Grand Jury. It is impossible for any one to know of Mr. Osborne's work without appreciating that he has been the one who has improved to offset the political manipulations of many politicians in New York State. When Mr. Osborne went to Ossining to be Warden at Sing Sing Prison, in December, 1914, he immediately divested the Prison of contact with any other powers than those which belonged to him as Warden, and his administration of the Prison until now when he has been indicted, has been of such a fearless and determined policy that he has made enemies, which for the time being interfered with the carrying out of his ideals. It was not possible, of course, to change the physical condition of Sing Sing Prison on account of the old buildings, and the old fashioned construction, but the improvement that is noted in the work that has been developed in the shops, and the different outlook on life that he has instilled into the lives of the inmates has been simply marvellous.

The Self Government Leagues which have been established at Auburn and Sing Sing, New York, have shown themselves to be of the most important character, and through these organizations, he has taken on a new understanding of their confinement, and have received an inspiration to work, and to make of themselves good members of society, as they never have in the past.

Whatever may be the outcome of the work on Mr. Osborne's personal standing which is an infamous charge, the fact remains that he has brought into the eyes of the all the country, a different understanding of Penal Institutions, and a different idea of directing them. "Prison Reform" has not only stayed in New York State, but all over the United States, and the principle of "Prison Reform" is simply to have the men understand through their own initiative, and through their own intelligence, that they are the ones who have got to show that they are capable of "making good" and staying good" (the motto of the Self Government Leagues), but "Prison Reform" has also shown that the old method of driving men to their work, and forcing them to obey the dictates of authority, and taking away from them all the natural surroundings of life, are methods which have got to pass, and which cannot be used longer. In this way, Osborne has made for himself, and for this country, a standard that will be followed in the future, and every voter who desires to see the best interests of a State served, will know that Mr. Osborne has done more than any other man has done for this country, to bring about these results.

Yours sincerely,
E. KENT HUBBARD.

The headline, in a contemporary, "Drops Dead After Cleaning His Sidewalk," moves the cynical New Haven Union to observe: "A good many of us would drop dead if the neighbors cleaned their walks"—Conn Western News.

To which we would add that some of us here in Windsor may drop dead or badly mangled if some of the individuals, churches or corporations, who ought to set better examples, do not attend to this matter of clearing walks more conscientiously.

The Hon. Thomas J. Spellacy gave an address at the January meeting of the W. B. M. A. on the "Duties Of A United States District Attorney" that was listened to by a good-sized audience with much interest.

Every member of the W. B. M. A. knows that he gets a lot for his $3.00 per year. He should not fail to pay his dues promptly. Any Windsor man who doesn't is making the Association is missing a whole lot. Better dig up $3.00 and see for yourself.

Windsor people who have already suffered considerable annoyance on account of irregular train schedules should do well to make up their minds that they must suffer more for a time rather than less. The New Haven officials are doing their level best in extreme conditions. The blizzard of December, the grip epidemic which laid up hundreds of employees, the heavy Christmas traffic and a resulting congestion of freight have combined to knock schedules higher than they ever were before. Better be good and do your best, for if you can for the trouble you may be caused is nothing to the real trouble the railroad is up against. If you are sceptical keep your eyes open next time you ride through the Hartford freight yards.

FIRST ANNUAL CONCERT AND BALL OF THE WINDSOR BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

This grand affair which is to be celebrated on Friday evening, March 5th, will eclipse undoubtedly any social event ever undertaken by the Association.

Already the novel and attractive tickets are ready for distribution by Chairman G. F. Scarborough of the Entertainment committee, to which belongs the credit for planning the affair. These tickets, each of which admits one gentleman and as many ladies as he cares to invite, cost one dollar.

In addition to the dancing, there will be a concert by the Tempo Orchestra, twenty pieces, an exhibition of modern and fancy dancing (part of which will be in special costume) by Donald Pittiblado and Betty Robinson, reputed to be the cleverest and most graceful society dancers in Connecticut.

A buffet lunch will be served by a well-known caterer, and the Town Hall will be very elaborately decorated by Siouns of Hartford.

Tickets may be obtained of the Entertainment Committee or through any member of the Association.

Members of the W. B. M. A. at the number of 125 sat down to an excellent supper served in the Town Hall, Tuesday, January 18th, by ladies as be cares to invite, cost one dollar each.

"You say you are a pacifist?"
"Yes," replied the indignant person, "I believe there is a man who ought to set better examples. do you think what you are saying is not true?"
"Hold on a minute."
"Yes, I do."

"If you're a pacifist, don't shake your fist at me"—Birmingham Age Herald.
There are some business men who glue their eyes so fascinated upon the cent that they fail entirely to see the ten cents beyond it; and there are some, not naturally generous men perhaps, but whose business acumen we must see the cent and value it, but know how to squander it with a pleasing appearance of genial recklessness, when it appears reasonably certain that by doing so many more will be ultimately gained.

Such a course has no sentiment in it but it is consistent with good business sense.

The Town Crier would prefer to advertise in Windsor only such out-of-town concerns as do not compete with Windsor business men, but the only possible way for us to live, and to grow in interest, sale and circulation, is through receipts from advertising. Give us your advertising and your moral support, and we will make this a consistent "Buy in Windsor" publication as soon as we can afford to,—a publication of constantly increasing size, readability, interest, and with a circulation that will put many dollars into your pocket for every one you pay us for advertising.

The support we get now, when we need it most, will be the patronage most gratefully remembered.

Who owns the large wooded island at the mouth of the Farmington River?

Who pays taxes on it?

If nobody owns it why doesn't the town annex it?

Patronize our advertisers if you want the Town Crier to succeed. Tell business men that you saw their ads. here. Perhaps you did not see them. In that case we hate to suggest that you prevaricate—but use your own judgment. If you haven't yet seen their ads. here, you will.

Last month we promised to open a new account in the Windsor bank with the first subscription money received. The account has been started. To Julius E. Rauschenbe, the ever lasting glory of being the first to subscribe to The Windsor Town Crier— the second being Edward G. Riggs of New York City, Executive Assistant to President Elliott of the New Haven road, who sent a nice letter with his subscription.

Mr. Riggs will be remembered as the witty speaker at the Ladies' Night Banquet of the Business Men's Association, who claimed to be an old Windsor boy, because one of his wife's bridesmaids came from Windsor.

The regrettable news that Miss Lester has resigned as Visiting Nurse for the Emergency Aid Association is somewhat compensated for by the fact that she will continue her useful work in Windsor on her own account. Miss Lester has done much good and gained many friends and she deserves our best wishes for her great success in her chosen work which she so richly deserves. We are glad to note that the Emergency Aid Association will continue to serve those who require the use of its valuable equipment.

The Eddy Plant of the General Electric Co. It is the largest tax payer in the Windsor Fire District. It handles about 250 carloads of material a year, shipping its products to all the civilized countries of the world.

It has an organized fire department and an elaborate fire protection system under the frequent and thorough inspection of the insurance companies. It has frequently been called upon to assist in subduing fires in the town which would have resulted most seriously if the fire had not been always given cheerfully and promptly.

It has a Mutual Benefit Association which pays its members $6.00 per week in cases of sickness or accident and $100 as a death benefit. In cases of death the G. E. Company contributes another $50, making a total of $500.

It has a model system of old-age pensions for its employees.

And these are only a few of the many reasons why this plant is a credit to Windsor, and why it is introduced among these columns to the people of Windsor.
An ancient Egyptian moralist, writing to his son, said: "If thou taketh a wife try to make her happier than any of her woman friends. She will be doubly bound to thee if the tie is sweet to her. Accord her what pleases her.
She will appreciate the effort."

A young newspaper man, who lives at Fulton, on the Kentucky-Tennessee line where the trunk line of the Illinois Central Road crosses the Louisville and Memphis division, was at the station not long ago and overheard a conversation between two Pullman porters who met upon the platform.

One of the pair, a Southern darky, was a depositor of a savings bank which had just gone into the hands of a receiver. He told his friend, who was an educated negro from Chicago, of his misfortune.

"It sho' is hard luck," he bemoaned.
"I'd done put two hundred and seventy-five dollars in dat bank, and now I've lost all mah money."

"Oh, I don't know," said the Chicago porter reasingingly: "maybe the suspension is only just temporary."

"Mebbe so, mebbe so," was the melancholy answer. "But you knows what my husband," said the matron,
"was a confirmed smoker when we were sick-a-bed and unconsceous, for he's a 'live-wire' and what he says is always common-sensical, instructive and witty. And he's a jolly good fellow! Don't forget the date, Tuesday, February 1st.

The first number of The Town Crier was printed by B. S. Carter, proprietor of the Windsor Printing Company, within a period of ten days. Mr.
Carter said he would do it and he did, but at such a sacrifice of energy and time that he did not care to undertake the second issue. We wish to offer a well-earned expression of our appreciation of Mr. Carter's efforts, and commendation for his workmanship.

Mr. X., the sub-editor, was asked to write an article on superstition and imbecility. When the article was printed the opening sentence was found to be as follows:

"That imbecility is not on the wane in any one—every appearance of being busy, will be found to be on close analysis, busy —yes, busy, but nine-tenths of his busyness would disappear. And unless he does this his business may disappear.—100 Per Cent. The Practical Magazine of Efficient Management.

ter. Young man—'No, ma'am, I won't."—Michigan Gargoyle.

a war victim.—Washington Post.

Charles Bowley, in his book, "Fifty Years of Work Without Wages," tells a story against himself. A nature enthusiast he was climbing Snowden and overtook an old gypsy woman. He began to dilate upon the sublimity of the scenery in somewhat gushing phrases. The woman paid no attention to him. Provoked by her irresponsiveness, he said: "You don't seem to care for this magnificent scenery"

"I enjies it; I don't jabber."

After several unsuccessful attempts to draw her husband into conversation at the restaurant the wife discovered the cause of his abstraction to be a beautiful girl dressed in black and seated at a near-by table.

"An attractive widow," observed the wife coolly.

"Yes, indeed, a very attractive widow," agreed the husband enthusiastically.

"Yes, sighed the wife. "I wish I were one."

The telegraph editor of a Denver newspaper had often complained of a country correspondent who omitted names in his stories; so he wrote the man that if he neglected the names in his next yarn he would be discharged. A few days later the editor got this dispatch:

"Como, Colorado, June 8.—A severe storm passed over this section this afternoon and lightning struck a fence on the ranch of Henry Wilson, killing three cows—theirs names being Jessie, Bessie and Mary."

the Suffragette, members of the Rainbow Dramatic Club, and Rep. A. H. House, whose Ford had balked at last. Who could blame it? It had borne much! Too much!

But I digress. Humphrey had been waiting for Rowers, it seemed, when suddenly a joyous shout arose from the crowd. What had happened? A street car came grandly puffing up State Street—a west side Springfield car belonging to the Hartford & Springfield Company—a small road but having the best lighted, most comfortable cars entering Hartford. No wonder the multitude shouted for joy and all that portion dwelling north of the Hysteria City Hall heard for it. Our hero, being strong and vigorous, was easily able to knock several ladies out of the way and was the second to board the car, the first being the general Hartford letter-carrier who has held that record for ten years) which was quickly loaded inside and out, as will be seen by the illustration. As one Hartford lady remarked, "If the suburbanites would keep off the sub­ urban cars there would be more room for city people."

Just as the car was ready to start a flat-wheeled Asylum Avenue car came pounding up behind it and was quickly filled to overflowing with its customary load of millionaires and aldermen.

A complication had arisen! The Asylum Avenue car was the one scheduled for the same hour, but of the day before! The dispatcher telephoned to the manager and the manager telephoned to the President of the Connecticut Company in New Haven, for advice in this dilemma, as usual in all dilemmas. Should the car for Windsor go ahead or should both cars back down to the switch and let the Asylum Avenue car leave the waiting station first? The manager started to explain the situation and the Presi­ dent interrupted him to ask:

"How did it happen?"

Manager: "Well, you see, the Hartford & Springfield Company is a small one, so it isn't much trouble for them to take care of their line and keep their schedule."

President: "You don't understand me. I mean, how did it happen that the Asylum Avenue was only twenty-four hours behind schedule? Have you been letting local cars go out ahead of Windsor cars?"

Manager: "Oh, no, I wouldn't do that. It just happened."

President: "Well now, you hustle that Hartford and Springfield car ahead first as usual. Never keep Windsor people waiting longer than neces­ sary."

Manager: "All right, sir—we never do."

The conversation ended, orders were circulated, and our hero and his fel­ low passengers were at length about to get under way. But they had hardly started when a remarkable occurrence detained them.

BUY AT HOME.
It is gratifying to note that the local merchants report a good holiday trade with local people.
It is generally the case that people who insist on trading abroad find, on comparison, that they have paid fully as much, if not more, for their purchases, than they could have procured the same articles for, at home.
It is likewise true that some people are obsessed by the fallacious notion that it gives them “tone” to journey out of town for their Christmas shopping, in disregard of home merchants —and “tone compensates even for the experience of being “stung” by a bad bargain.
Others, whose circumstances permit, have the legitimate reason, that they are obliged to go to the larger places to procure goods of a quality beyond the reach of the general demand.
On the whole, however, fairness and justice would seem to dictate the general policy of patronizing home merchants.—Conn. Western News.

By a letter recently received from Rainbow we find we were all wrong about the piano being left on the stage throughout the performance of “The Last Loaf.” The lines actually required that piano to remain on the stage. That’s just the way with editors! They invariably seem to make wrong everything they try to set right. We are covered with blushes and confusion.

We were recently invited to join a dancing class, being advised that we were eligible if we knew the Fox Trot, the Canter, and the One Step. Now if we knew those dances what would we be taking dancing lessons for?
